Well, I hope by the time this is published we are looking at sunshine and experiencing warmer temperatures! Auditors will be gearing up for the primary election, treasurers tax collections, DOE’s tax appeals, and highway departments for the impacts of flooding. Now I just mentioned a few of the offices within the county network. I know that all county offices work diligently everyday to keep things flowing.

Hello everyone! We’ve had a lot going on since my last article. Harvest was a challenge for the farmers with fields being wet and some of our roads still flooded. We then had a freeze and thaw event while harvest was going on which was not very good for the road system. I’m pretty sure this was an issue for several counties.

Hello! I hope this newsletter finds you all warm, cozy and gearing up for warmer temps. I am thankful that we are already on the downside of winter and heading into SPRING! Now if the weather will cooperate and allow us all to have a slow melting season so as to minimize flooding, that would be great!

What is a Conflict...
What Do I Do If It Applies to Me

County officials are required to abide by specific laws regarding behavior and business decisions to prevent situations involving a conflict of interest. There are several types of “conflict:” holding concurrent offices with conflicting interests, involvement in a government contract and personal or pecuniary interest in a vote. If identified and handled correctly a “conflict” is not an issue.

The census is much more than just a head count. It provides a picture of our nation that helps determine where to build new schools, hospitals, and businesses; how federal funding is distributed; and how congressional seats are apportioned. It also helps us see how our communities have changed over time. That’s why an accurate count is so important.

SDPAA Year in Review...

The Year 2019 marked the 32\textsuperscript{nd} anniversary of the South Dakota Public Assurance (SDPAA), which was formed during the 1980’s insurance crisis when local governments could not secure affordable liability insurance, if any, from private insurance companies. Out of necessity, visionaries from local governments across South Dakota successfully spearheaded enabling legislation through the SD Legislature to create their own risk sharing pool to provide property and liability coverage for their fellow local governments.
SDML WC Year End Report

We have just completed another successful year within the SDML Workers' Compensation Fund. It has become tradition to share the year end numbers with our Membership for the past year.
